Support

You may have questions like “how do I submit an assignment?” There are some support areas to assist you. Go to my home page. You will see 4 tabs such as support. This tab lists all software and system requirements. It is ideal to have the recommended requirements. Towards the bottom you will see more assistance to help you; you will see phone numbers and email addresses to contact for technical assistance; you will also see hours of operations. You can also click on FAQ database; here, you will see more information; there are knowledge-based articles that you can click on, such as videos. On the right side you will see more resources, like software. Now I will go back to my home page and look at the second area of support. Click help page. You will see key areas that are listed in all of your courses. You can click on each link and read about them to familiarize yourself with all of those key areas.
